Description

A beautiful old pine Linen Press dating from the mid to late 1800's, with an elaborate arched top and 2 shaped doors (with 2 small drawers and a shelf) in the top, and drawers in the 'Bombe' base. A very rare and stunning piece, in excellent condition for its age. The top separates from the base for delivery. Please let us know if you're unsure about your access (especially if going upstairs), and we can give you the measurements for top and bottom sections. Originally painted, currently in bare wood. Can be purchased as it is for £1650, or waxed for £1797. We can rearrange the shelf configuration inside for you if you wish, and add hanging rail/s as required. With a height of 93", it goes without saying: please check your ceiling height. Please note: I made a mistake when talking in the video saying the internal depth was 20", this internal depth is actually 17.5", the external depth of the top is 20". As above: the internal depth is 17.5", which should be deep enough for hanging shirts and smaller items, might be a bit shallow for suits and coats. Height: 93", width: 73.5", base depth: 29", top depth: 20", internal depth: 17.5".
