Description

We've had many pieces of Art Deco Czech glass and Karl Palda glass in particular pass through our hands over the years and this is one of the rare times we've found gents cologne bottles. Quite a rare find and still smells of men's cologne, which smells divine by the way! Perfectly usable for modern day use and what wonderful pieces to have displayed on your bathroom shelf. Strong geometric design to both sides of the bottle with a silver hall mark on the lids. Great condition no damage to report, these definitely won't disappoint. The lids have engine turned tops and hall marked one side and interestingly marked made in England on the other.
