Description

A magnificent Edwardian sapphire ring. The round cut sapphire in the centre – certified as natural, unheated and originating from Ceylon (Sri Lanka) – is a glowing indigo blue. The stone is secured in an absolute masterpiece of a setting, with eight pear cut sapphires and eight rose cut diamonds in the finely pierced and milgrained gallery. A further four rose cut diamonds (two each side) are set at the top of a shank which features striking vented shoulders. Accompanied by a report from Gemmological Certification Services (GCS) stating the sapphire shows no indication of heating, and is Sri Lankan (Ceylon) in origin. Cut – Round cut sapphire in the centre with pear cut sapphires and rose cut diamonds in the gallery. Colour – The diamonds are G to H. Clarity – The central sapphire is loupe clean. (There is a natural divot to the back of the sapphire which presents as an inclusion.) The diamonds are SI1 to SI2. Carat – The central sapphire is 2.56 carat. A further approximate 0.32 carat of sapphires in the gallery and approximately 0.12 carat of diamonds. Circa – 1910. Size – Q (UK) or 8 (US). Complimentary sizing is available, can go up or down.
