Description

Really lovely Regency mahogany and walnut inlaid tripod table or wine table, circa 1820 and in good country house condition. Very decorative with the one piece dish top being inlaid 8 pointed star and supported by the turned pedestal with three splayed legs. As you can see, the top of the table has been well used and I have left it this way as these age and use marks are under decades of polish and beeswax, so it seems a shame to remove all that to get it back to a perfect finish...hence my term of "country house" condition. Stands well and is solid, so you could use this as a lamp table too. Measuring: 29 1/4 inches or 74.5 cm height. 23 1/2 inches or 59.5 cm diameter
