Description

Antique Mahogany Miniature Single Fusee Alarm Mantel Clock By Gurdon Woodbridge. This lovely miniature antique mantel clock has a mahogany case with a lovely colour and grain. The top of the case is then round with a lovely arched, silk backed fretwork panel to the top. The body of the case is then square leading to a small shaped moulding around the bottom edge. Finally the case is finished by four round brass feet. The dial is then painted and set out in black Roman numerals with a thin ring to the outside marking the minutes. The dial is then signed to the centre by the maker "Gurdon Woodbridge". The dial then has a small disk to the centre so the alarm can be set. Finally the dial is finished by two lovely shaped hands as well as a domed, protective glass set into a brass bezel. The movement is then wound from the front and accessed from the back. The movement is a miniature single fusee example of the upmost quality. The movement also features a small string which when pulled winds the alarm feature. The movement ticks away and works as it should as well as coming complete with its pendulum and winding key. A very rare clock that is one of the smallest exam...
