Description

An exquisite two-seater bench comprised of a slatted seat and a distinctive lancet-arched back. The crossed supports to the seat are beautifully hand-forged at each end, as are the legs where they terminate in pad feet. It has stylishly shaped arm supports and legs united by H-stretchers which, in turn, have angled ties providing stability and strength. This truly wonderful early 20th century English garden bench is the prettiest and most elegant we've seen in years.
