Description

A fantastic example of a sizable oil on canvas by L.Guarnieri measuring 40 Inches x 28 Inches in a contemporary thin gilt oval bevel frame, which is a later replacement for the original. The artist was born in Sicily in 1925 and became a world re-nowned painter and was acclaimed in both continents as one of the few living artists worthy to be considered a descendant of the Italian Renaissance. Wherever he has shown his paintings, critics and public alike have acknowledged him a rare living master and truly a Twentieth Century Phenomenon. Arnot & Co on New York have been an established art gallery since 1878, and in past years have sold and commissioned many of his works. I believe the artist is no longer alive and so collectors often snap up examples whenever they become available. A normal sized painting for this artist would often be 24 Inches x 12 Inches, and would show either apples or oranges, but rarely both as in our larger example, which also has a jug in the scene. Condition is perfect and with a good light on the subject, the fine reflection and shadows cast from the jug are exceptionally well demonstrated. The artist's fine works were selling for around £160 ba...
