Description

These are a stunning pair of early 20th century iron hanging lanterns. They have wonderful hand beaten detail throughout. The frosted glass is totally original and is in perfect condition. The amount of work in the frame of these is incredible as well as the design in front of the glass which looks great when lit. These would look amazing kept as a pair hanging inside or out. They are very heavy and come with the original chain so they have a good hanging height. The sizes are very impressive as well. Fully rewired. Priced as a pair but can be purchased individually. Height 90cm Width 46cm Depth 46cm Height of drop (Including chain) 175cm Price includes UK mainland delivery
