Description

A delightful and imposing piece of early Victorian tea-table ware. This is a large and attractive celery vase, with a turned over rim and frosted body. The body is cut through with grapes and leaves and the rim has thumbnail cutting. There is a large, hollow baluster knob and supporting collar. The base has a polished pontil mark. Celery vases are making quite a comeback as vintage tableware continues in it's popularity. These particular items lend themselves to the modern table for alternative uses, such as flowers etc. and are attractive and practical items. Dimensions below.
