Description

19th-Century French Single Door Cupboard – Hand-Painted by Melissa White This exquisite 19th-century French single-door cupboard has been beautifully hand-painted by renowned artist Melissa White, featuring a stunning polychrome Elizabethan design. Inspired by an Elizabethan wall painting (circa 1600) found in Canterbury, the intricate multivine motif showcases delicate leaves, tulips, honeysuckle, and a scrolling vine, with a charming pigeon at its centre. This compact yet elegant cupboard includes a wide single drawer and stands gracefully on short cabriole legs, making it a unique and functional statement piece. About the Artist: Melissa White is a Hastings-based designer known for her expertise in hand-painted surface patterns for interiors, bringing historical designs to life with exceptional craftsmanship. ??
