Description

Quality Edwardian mahogany fold-over table with serpentine shaped front. The hinged top lifts open and is supported by gate legs creating a larger playing surface. The playing surface has its original olive green tooled leather insert which shows some imperfections (shown in pictures) water marks, shadows of a long forgotten jigsaw and the discolouration of the fold however this is part of its history which is what gives it character and charm. In the frieze there is a small drawer offering storage. Raised on four square tapering legs with unusual brass feet terminating on brass castors. A solid table of high quality, the perfect addition to any home.
