Description

Just in from a local house this most unusual and highly useful cupboard is in nice tidy condition. The bow front is a most appealing feature as is the tooled leather surface. The leather is in good condition with only some impression marks from items being on it but there is no scuffing, no cuts or rips as can be seen in one of the pictures. It has good colour with a slighty mellow tone and a very clean finish. The inside has shelves that can be moved up or down or even removed. It could be superb in a dining room for glasses or maybe as a drinks cabinet or could be used as a music centre perhaps. Lots of uses for this really unusual 19th Century cabinet. The doors slide back behind the turned pillars so no open doors if you have a limited space. Give us a call to discuss 01565 874075
