Description

A pretty (collectable) Edwardian cake fork by Birmingham silver smiths Levi and Salaman. Dating from 1907 it has clean detail on the handle as can be seen in the pictures and a good clear assay mark. There are some signs of use on the prongs but no break damage or missing bits at all. It is an usual little item that would go well in a silver collection. Its 12 cms long and overall nice and clean. We can post for £5 in the UK if required or can be collected if you wish.
