Description

A lovely antique oak stationery cabinet dating from the late 19th / early 20th Century. It has a lovely warm patina with a sloped front with brass escutcheon. The doors open out to reveal a series of racks for holding papers and letters. There is also a pen tray, and the original pair of glass inkwells although they are missing their lids. Below this is a large drawer, held in place with a brass rod. It is in good condition and comes with a working key. There are a few small knocks and marks around the outside, some general signs of age and use and a few small repairs but nothing detrimental. It has been lightly cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photographs so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
