Description

An elegant and very usable mahogany chair c.1760, the splat and top rail in the fashionable Chippendale style. The front aspect of the chair has faded to a lovely honey colour, almost like walnut. This chair stood with its back to a window for many years and is bleached by the sun; regular application of linseed oil or a good wax polish would help to stop it looking so 'thirsty'. DIMENSIONS: 37 inches tall, seat width 21 inches, depth 17 inches.

PROVENANCE:: A long standing collection from Stirling House, Salisbury, Wiltshire (Image 5)

Internal Ref: 9314
