Description

Circa 1880. A stylish and rare pair of shaped walnut and burr-walnut Dutch lowboys. The tops in book matched burr walnut with shaped sides and front, with a raised moulded fore-edge. Full length drawer at the front following the form as the top, with two smaller drawers beneath with a bow section to the center which form the apron. The sides are extremely curvaceous, all resting on four stout cabriole legs with foliate carving on the knees and a cartouche shaped section with large harebells beneath, finishing on a realistic ball and claw foot.
