Description

A fine example of a late 18thc "bell" metal chamberstick ,unusual as it is made of bell metal,...this is where the brass contains a higher amount of copper and you get this attractive mellow golden colour...collectors are always keen to buy bell metal pieces....this chamberstick has the unique feature of a "disc" shaped handle...again uncommon among chambersticks of this age...in nice condition for its age and use. English. C1780-C1800.
